God Creates The First Marriage

Opening Illustration:

Before class, write the words “marriage”, “life”, “people”, “glory”, and “God” on index cards. Place the cards inside of small boxes and wrap the boxes with gift wrap. (You can use gift bags as well.) Show the gifts to the class. Ask them to take turns trying to guess what it is inside of each box. Next, open each box or bag and ask a child to read what is written on the card. Once all the gifts are open, talk with the children about how every good gift is from God. He gives us life, marriage, families, and everything else for His glory.

BIG IDEA: MARRIAGE IS A GOOD GIFT FROM GOD, NOT AN INVENTION OF MAN.¹

What are some inventions by man? (Medicines, vehicles, cell phones, etc.)

God created two genders, male and female, so that people could live in marriage relationships.

- When God created the world, He formed man from the dust of the ground.
- He called the very first man, Adam. When God made Adam, He made the first human and God created Adam with a gender.
- When God created Eve, He created her as a female because in His great design He intended for Adam and Eve, and every male and female after them, to compliment one another.
- God did not make one gender or more than two genders. He made only male and female and He did so because it was His plan and purpose for them to be joined together in marriage.

God designed man and woman to need one another.

- When God made Adam, He made Adam to need a helper.
- God provided Adam with the helper he needed when He created Eve, the first woman.
- God designed people to need one another and He created man and woman to need each other.
- It was always God's idea and design for man and woman to need one another and for them to come together to create a marriage.
- God knew that Adam would need Eve in order to be complete. God created male and female so that they could join perfectly together in marriage and bring God glory.

Marriage is given as a picture of Jesus' relationship with the church.

- Marriage does fulfill a need that man and woman have.
- It is not just for man's and woman's need to be fulfilled. It is a picture of how Jesus interacts with the church.
- Jesus loves the church and takes care of the church like a husband is supposed to love and take care of his wife.
- Jesus sacrificed for the church and is faithful to the church like a man and wife are to sacrifice for one another and remain faithful to one another.

Divide the children into pairs or small groups. Give each group a marker and a blank piece of paper. As a class, make a list of some modern inventions, such as cell phones, televisions, computers, etc. Next, ask the groups to draw a picture of their favorite inventions. Allow the groups to share and then talk with them about the difference between man's inventions and the things that God has given us, such as marriage, families, etc.

1. Matthew 19:4-6: God created male and female so that they could join together perfectly to create a marriage.

Help the children brainstorm ways to be good helpers to their families and friends. Write their ideas on a piece of poster board or on the board. Remind the children that Godly marriages can reflect God to the world.

A Godly marriage reflects God's everlasting love.

Inside of the hula hoops, place pieces of paper with different descriptions of what marriage is on them, such as “A gift”, “From God”, “Companionship”, etc. Ask the children to jump from one hula hoop to another as you call out a particular color while music is playing. When the music stops, ask the children to read what is written on the card inside of their hula hoop. Once you’ve played several times, talk with the children about how marriage is a good gift from God.
