FAMILY WORKOUT:

This week we will ponder how to help our son or daughter long for the coming of Jesus. We will pray for ways to model longing for His return and we will discuss ways to help them practice sharing about King Jesus with their friends.

JESUS FOLLOWERS LONG FOR THE KING

Read and meditate on Isaiah 9:1-9 this week.

- Consider your own thoughts about the coming King Jesus and how you can share them with your son or daughter. How can you model longing for the return of King Jesus to your son or daughter? How can you help your son or daughter learn more about what life in eternity will be like to help them long for His return?
- Ponder the attributes of the King found in Isaiah 9:6 and how they apply to the needs, questions, desires, etc. you are experiencing in life right now.
- Ponder how you can discuss with your son or daughter what Jesus' birth means to you. How can you share some of the awe and wonder you have that God's Son took on flesh to save the world?

Spend time praying for your son or daughter to have a greater awe of Jesus' birth.

- Pray that they would grow in their understanding of what it means to the world and to them.
- Set aside time to pray with your son or daughter or student this week. As you pray together, pray that the Holy Spirit to help you all to have a greater longing for the return of King Jesus. Pray for opportunities to share this longing with others.

Help your son or daughter memorize verses about Jesus' birth this week, such as Isaiah 9:6.

- Spend time each day helping them review the verses and memorizing them with them.
- Discuss with your son or daughter areas you personally need God to be your counselor, to be mighty, or to help you live in His peace. Ask your son or daughter where he or she needs these things and pray for those things with them.
- Discuss with your student the ways you share with others about Jesus' birth and what it means to the world. Brainstorm ways your student can share with their friends what Jesus' birth means to them.
